Film Showing with Grammy Award Winning Guest 7pm on Sunday, February 20th, 2011 at Symphony 8 Restaurant & Bar

Guerilla Opera will have a special screening of the September 2010 production of “Heart of a Dog.” Filmmaker Nathaniel Hansen shot and edited this filmed version from live performances and features the beautiful live audio recording by Silken Audio. Shot in a hand-held, guerilla documentary-style, the film captures the visceral, in-your-face staging and music that got Boston’s opera community buzzing. Composed by Rudolf Rojahn and directed by Copeland Woodruff, three-time winner of the NOA Best Production Award, the filmed performance provides an opportunity to experience this unique piece again and again.

Following the screening, you’re invited to join the composer, ensemble, and honored guest, star of Opera Boston’s Cardillac, Grammy & Emmy Award winning baritone, Sanford Sylvan, for an hour of cocktails, appetizers, and socializing. Guerilla Opera will also be holding a raffle where guests can win several exciting prizes including tickets to a performance of Opera Boston’s Cardillac!

$30.00 for individual admission
$10.00 special student price
